Christmas is for kids!

What is Christmas? Well, it's the family gathering, the office parties, the Christmas cheer, shopping, crowds, the turkey dinner, Christmas carols, the spirit of giving and the whole basis of the great Christmas religion. It's all of that and more of the same, but what is Christmas? And really the whole season all about?

Christmas is for kids! Christmas is wide-eyed little girls with piggy banks sitting on unpolished Santa's knees explaining what their sweet little hearts desire on the big morning. Christmas is curly haired little boys so excited they awake Christmas Eve to get a glimpse of the old man in red as he steps from his sleigh. Yup, Christmas is for kids!

Nowhere in the Dryden Valley area has that excitement been more prevalent than last Saturday at the Municipal Library. The air was literally snapping with most try excitement when the library staff threw a live decorating party to mark their first anniversary.

Each and every decoration was inspected with a curiosity that comes only at this time of year. There was lots of help, with often two or three pairs of hands to put on especially eye-catching bangles on the tree.

For some, namely Jill, the highlight was after the "work" was done. Ah, that cake, it tasted better during the Christmas season than any other time. You can always eat so much more without getting a tummy ache!

You see, Christmas is for kids, and in this fast changing society let's all hope that's one thing that technology doesn't mess with.

Poland's unrest could see

Unhappy holiday for family

By Linda Falkenberg
It could be a rather dismal Christmas this year for the Wojcik family of Dryden Valley.
Ted and Sophie Wojcik's daughter and her family are in Poland, and may not be able to celebrate in Canada in time for Christmas as was planned by the family.
Poland's Communist leaders declared martial law last Sunday, ending the country's links with the outside world, and suspending civil liberties.
Under the martial law, all but religious meetings were banned; the right to strike or protest was suspended and the unofficial distribution of information was also banned.

The Wojcik family are on the Santa Anonymous list with more names coming in, stated Mrs. Thompson.

RCMP report

One man was killed and two others injured when an outboard Canadian Armed Forces vehicle went off Highway 18 at 4:48 p.m. last Thursday.

According to Drayton RCMP, the accident occurred when the vehicle skidded on an icy stretch of road, 4 1/2 kilometres west of Wapiti, and plunged into the ditch where it overturned.

The driver of the vehicle, a 27-year-old corporal who was stationed in Victoria, was killed instantly while the two other armed forces personnel in the truck sustained only minor injuries.

All three were stationed with the armed forces in British Columbia and were on route to Edmonton.

The two men with injuries were taken to the St. John's hospital and were released the same evening.

The accident is still under investigation by RCMP.

A 22-year-old Drayton Valley man has been charged following a break in at the liquor store early Sunday morning.

Approximately $400 damage was done to the Drayton Valley store with $400 worth of liquor removed.

According to RCMP, the man will appear in court on Dec. 20.

One woman was injured in a two-vehicle accident which occurred 14 miles north of Drayton Valley last Thursday morning.

Doris Vanderwolf of Drayton Valley was injured when her vehicle was rear-ended by a truck.

According to RCMP, Mrs. Vanderwolf's vehicle was damaged by a truck which was charged up by the truck in front of her. This move also led her vehicle from the view of an oncoming wedding truck which was involved in the collision.

Mrs. Vanderwolf has been taken to the University Hospital in Edmonton where she is in satisfactory condition.

No charges have been laid as a result of the accident.

A replica of a handgun was stolen from the Alvin Jaramila residence in Papineau Ridge on Dec. 13.

The incident is still under investigation by RCMP.

Only one person was charged with impaired driving the past weekend.

For the last holiday season has seen few impaired drivers, said Drayton Valley RCMP.

Permits plunge

It appears Drayton Valley was "in" for a rough holiday season. The heights it did in 1980 through town building permits, on average, were down 27 per cent from the 1980 figures.

The town's building permits for 1981 totalled 119 million dollars, but year-to-date figures for the first 10 months of 1981 totalled only $12,000,000.

Development officer Al Chalmers said permits in the town to date equal about $12,000,000, or just over 10 per cent of last year's figures of just over $120 million for the same period.

"We did have quite a few larger commercial buildings in 1980 than we are getting this year," he added, "but also had some large projects last year. But the new City of Parkland office."

Building permits this year were expected to reach "10 million" in total, in comparison to 1980's figure of $120,000,000. However, 1981 could be a "lighter" year for the town with the launching of the new hospital, expected to bring in a permit around $10 million.

Permits issued this year to the end of November included three for residential and one for commercial, totalling $22,000,000. This included a $40,000 permit for the kitchen building and $20,000 for the new liquor store; and one $20,000 permit for remodeling.

THE COLDER THE WINTER, THE HIGHER YOUR NATURAL GAS BILL

This year it's more important than ever — that you make your home more energy efficient so that you can keep the difference down... the difference between what you paid last year versus the weather report and what you could pay this year if you get a good service.

Even with a moderate winter this year, your natural gas bill could be higher because of rate increases resulting from general inflation, higher interest rates and, more significantly, the federal excise tax and the Canadian ownership tax.

Here's How You Can Save Energy Dollars

Several energy conservation practices you can use to help reduce this year's energy bill are shown in Northwestern Utilities' "Home Energy Guide to Energy Efficiency."

If Santa's sleigh ever breaks down... ...Drayton Valley's Rudi Merschell is on call with another

What would happen if Santa Claus's sleigh broke down just as he begins his annual journey on Christmas Eve?

Would the children of the world wake up on Christmas day to find no presents under the Christmas tree?

If Santa was in Drayton, he would have to do it with Rudi Merschell's sleigh just outside of town.

The house his family lives in was completely designed and made by Mr. Merschell, right down to the siding and gaudiness. Much of the furniture inside the house is hand-made as well.

"The kitchen set, the bedroom furnishings and the wagon wheel lamp suspended from the living room ceiling were all created by Mr. Merschell."

The house isn't completely finished yet, but it takes time when you do it yourself, said Mr. Merschell.

Story and photos by Linda Seidenrich

There Santa could pick up a new sleigh, hand-made by Mr. Merschell. Or, if he preferred, Santa could take a horse-drawn sleigh, also made by Mr. Merschell.

"I'm just doing it as a hobby," said Mr. Merschell. "I enjoy woodwork."

It takes Mr. Merschell a week to work and a half to put together a sleigh or sledge. He even shapes the metal for the runners on his sleighs.

Mr. Merschell sells some of the sleighs and sledge he makes, but he doesn't really sell them to support his business.

The workshop is filled with various saws, planes and lathes to make the sleighs and sledge. Some of the equipment used in making the sleighs was also made by Mr. Merschell.

In the centre of the workshop lies his latest work, a red and black sledge. You don't need much imagination to visualize a horse pulling the sledge down some quiet, snowy lane.

Baby contest underway

By Helene Dick
One lucky Drayton Valley area resident will begin 1982 with a host of prizes courtesy of local merchants and the efforts of the town's Registered Nursing Associates (RNAs) chapter.

The lucky recipient will be the first baby born in the new year at the Drayton Valley General Hospital, to parents residing in the district.

It's the eighth year the local RNA chapter has undertaken organization for the new year's baby contest, and president Marie Corbett said the campaign is going fairly well to date.

"We'd just like to ask the merchants who plan to donate to get the gifts in to us before Christmas," she added.

Last year's effort netted 40 different items for new year's baby Holly Roberts Keefe, born at 1:30 a.m. on Jan. 1. Holly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Smith of Drayton Valley.

As a corrections officer in Drayton Valley, his duties will include maintaining professional reports, doing investigations for supervisory purposes or pre-trial, community assessments for correctional services, supervising individuals on probation and the final option program or work orders.

One of the advantages of being in a town like Drayton Valley is that it allows people to become more involved in the community, said Mr. Gordon.

He added that although he is enjoying the town, he is still adjusting to the area which is considerably smaller than Elginburg, Ontario.

Thanks, ESAA

Another local group hit the dust last week after much soul-searching and deliberation over the decision to peak it in. Dryden Valley's Energy Services Association of Alberta—which sponsored two other ESAA groups in Whitecourt and the Red Deer area—says it's giving up the fight it launched back in October of 1980, when the federal government dealt a crushing blow to the oil industry via the National Energy Policy.

Deputy local oilmen and oil services representatives, the ESAA was formed primarily to bring the plight of the industry to the people. In the process it hoped to make friends and influence others in the business sector, while keeping an eye on government for any sign of softening the stand on the NEP.

Group members made trips to Toronto in December of last year to address the Canadian Manufacturing Association, bringing along the message that what was then hurting the oil industry would eventually come back to haunt the business sector. Members journeyed to Ottawa in April of this year for a four-day study session on industry problems with area MSP Jose Clark.

The group's effectiveness in their chosen task has been extensive. It's not easy overcoming that old rivalry between east and west to get a point across, but they succeeded in this. They got a lot of people to get up and take notice of the plight of the oil industry.

Whether the group itself is happy with this accomplishment is a story that will probably remain untold. Contacts we had this past week with ESAA people indicate there's a lot of disillusionment with government and the system. As one person who had been active with the group in its fight put it, "we accomplished a voice, but the way the political system is we couldn't crack it."

Farmers write

Old Santa sat in his easy chair, reading the letters from here and there, when all of a sudden "Ala," said he, the Alberta farmers have written to me.

I suppose they want a new fangled plow, or maybe some sort of a special crop. Oh well, he sighed, and shook his head, then opened the letter and slowly read: Dear Santa:

We know we're asking for quite a lot, but there are so many things we haven't got. So we thought we'd ask you to try and find these gifts for us that we have in mind.

A few less hoppers and a bit less rain, when harvest time rolls around again. We're tired of hail and wind storms here, so you read it together with them this year. This is our list and at the top, what we really want is a bumper crop, and just one more thing: give us patience cracks, give us strength to master the income tax.

Santa laughed and put the letter away, then stepped outside to look at the sleigh. And right on top by the sleigh, pretty chambers, he placed a box of Good Luck for Alberta farmers!

Perspectives

By Linda Soltenrich

What is your idea of Christmas? Is it giving? Or is it buying?

It used to be the most important holiday of the year also looked as the most profitable. It's said to be children were thankful for the homemade dolls they received. Now it seems all they want for Christmas is their new super-special doll that they saw advertised on TV.

"It only costs $25.00."

And, of course, if you decide to spend only a small amount on each person in the family, you're almost called greedy. After all, it is the season for giving!

Christmas is definitely the season for giving. It gives us a heads-up!

There's not always true. Though Christmas Day is perhaps the most enjoyable day of the year. It's what goes on before that is so depressing.

Stores put up their Christmas decorations shortly after Halloween, and begin advertising their wares at "remarkable reduced prices, just in time for early Christmas shoppers."

By the first December sales around the same stores are saying, "Get all your shopping done before the rush!"

The commercialism of Christmas cannot be blamed on the stores alone. Though, stores only do what society wants.

It would be terrific if all stores decided not to advertise for Christmas. But that isn't what society wants. Society wants bigger, better, more expensive gifts to buy. They don't want to reason for giving. What they want to do is buy.

Society has to be much more to receive a good saying. The holiday of this card is entitled to one full day of the company, for dinner, for visiting, for fun, sometimes during the next year at our mutual convenience. All companies encouraged will be paid by myself.

I would like to feel above the new customer number I know the giver couldn't afford to buy me in the first place.

Community welcome to use new local rink

Dear Editor:
Referring to the Dec. 9 issue of the Western Review under "Council notes" where it would seem the Town Council has in no way made any decision on the matter of the outdoor skating rink which was built for public skating near the junction of 20th Avenue and Highway 20 by the work, offer and contribution from many Dryden Valley businessmen.

It seems strange that a simple request of the Town as to whether the Town's liability policy covering recreation areas could be extended to cover this skating rink, a turning over of the rink to the Town for operation (although not for maintenance, it would seem) under some strange system of lease back.

Such an arrangement is not in evidence and rather than have any conflict over the use or operation of the rink, we have with the contribution of another good amateur in our ranks, namely D.V. business Ltd., obtained the rink.

In reply...

The community skating rink.

I would like to thank all the people involved who contributed to making the rink possible.

I would also like to apologize for the error regarding the skating rink and its operation.

The Town will be more than willing to help with the skating rink. Good luck with the operation and I hope that the Town of D.V. and area will enjoy their winter.

Thank you for your letter.

Recreation Director

on the use of the rink in the future. It is our intention that the rink be open virtually at all times up to 11 o'clock in the evening (as it is lighted) for public skating with only one condition—this would not be the rink for family skating. Further, hockey has adequate consideration from the Town through its indoor facility.

This letter is not intended to raise an issue with the Town, but to simply give assurance to our many friends in town who have very graciously assisted with material or work in establishing the rink that our intentions have not changed regarding its use.

Further, we welcome all members of the community to take advantage of it.

Fire sees little damage

The Drayton Valley fire department was called out to the street on Sunday afternoon to extinguish a fire which began in a small play's shop.

According to fire chief Gordon Fenn, the blaze began when a space heater on the wall exploded.

The building sustained only minimal damage.

Drayton Valley firemen responded to a fire which began at 10:00 a.m. on Sunday afternoon.

The fire department later cleared away burning toys.

A very large percentage of toys lost in last fire from the head. INSIST that your child wear a hat.

Christmas ornaments

From ordinary flour dough

Have you ever tried making Christmas ornaments out of dough? They are easy to make and they can be very attractive. Debbie Brinkley, district home economist at Alberta, says you can make a special dough which is described below, several kinds of colors, paint, wire or some decorative cord, a knife, a pointed artist's brush or Gipsy. If you want to make more elaborate ornaments, you can do so by sticking small pieces of the dough together with water.

Here is how you make the dough. Combine four cups of flour and one cup of salt. Stir in two cups of water and mix well with your hands. Then knead the dough for five minutes and roll it out on a floured cutting board or surface to a thickness of half an inch.

Use the cookie cutters to cut out the shapes you want or you can draw designs in the dough with a needle.

This recipe will make enough dough for about 10 ornaments that measure three to four inches in size.

To make hangers for the ornaments, cut short pieces of wire and make loops. Work the ends of the loops into the back of the ornaments at the top, being careful not to puncture or pierce the front surface.

An alternative way of hanging dough ornaments is to make a hole at the top of the ornament and thread a string through it.

One of the best known winter events in the Lower Mainland is the annual Polar Bear swim held each year. The swim is a 90-year-old custom in which hundreds of people plunge into the cold ocean waters of English Bay while thousands of warmly dressed people stand ashore to cheer them on.

Although Vancouver may lack the snow and cold weather of a traditional winter Christmas, it still makes the festive spirit of the holiday season. Yuletide activities for city dwellers include carolling, light displays, theme productions, symphonies, boating and skiing.

RCMP offer tips for driving in holiday season

By Suzanne Greenley

Drayton Valley residents should be aware of proper driving techniques for the festive season but also throughout the regular winter driving.

Driving situations may vary, however, and operators should remember that "one's driving habits are determined fast enough under the influence of alcohol without adding the unpredictability of icy streets," said Corporal Tim Turner of the Drayton Valley RCMP.

He added that one of the easiest ways to avoid impaired driving is for people to opt out of the "body party" when a co-driver or a person designated by the group remains sober to drive the other motorists home.

One of the local all complaints solved the problem of drinking and driving by hiring two high school students to drive staff members home from the office Christmas party, said Corporal Turner.

Drivers should prepare for winter by ensuring that their vehicles are equipped with adequate tires because problems with ice may be experienced from new snow the end of winter, he said.

He added that when a driver is not comfortable with the weather, it is better to stop or not to attempt driving. The safest way to drive in winter is to use the correct technique, he said, and allowing for better handling, slower, said Corporal Turner.

Drivers should, however, remember to give themselves three to four times the stopping distance that is usual with dry roads in summer driving conditions.

Vehicle operators should also be aware of the time needed to pull in front of oncoming traffic during adverse driving conditions.

Corporal Turner went on to say that there is usually a sharp increase in minor accidents following the first snowfall.

There are six papers being readied with the last of the year, he said, and the last of the year, he said, and the last of the year, he said.

The last of the year, he said, and the last of the year, he said, and the last of the year, he said.

He added, however, that if about what they are doing, the two accidents can be avoided.

RCMP have noticed that an increasing number of accidents are being caused by impaired driving.

People are not sleeping the ice off their car properly.

and are driving around with a hole in the wheel, the rest of the glass fronted over," said Corporal Turner.

"If drivers don't find that it's important to have good vision, then we'll have to begin charging them," he said.

A couple accidents have already occurred this year due to obscured vision, he added.

Drivers can be charged with improper vision under the Highway Traffic Act, said Corporal Turner.

Cards have a great tradition

By Jeanne Banger

Once again the beloved tradition of sending Christmas cards is being threatened. The culprit is the computer. It has been over since the invention of the typewriter. It sends more to mail a card than to buy it in the first place, and next year it will be worse, they say.

While few experts realize it how vital and valuable are Christmas cards are if you don't ever throw them out they are a first source for all genealogy—researchers in search of their roots.

You just dig through a 50 year accumulation of cards and from signatures alone, you will know everything there is to know about a particular branch of the family tree. Here is a sample of typical signatures over the years.

1940: Edna, Trevor and Jay.

1946: Edna, Trevor, Jay and Edward.

1950: Edna, Trevor, Jay, Edward and Diana.

1955: Edna, Edward and Diana.

1960: Edna, Edward and Diana.

1970: Edna and Edward.

1975: Edna, Edward, Bybl and Edward Jr.

Drop-in news

By Rika Nerway

On Dec. 7 we had a table for exchange. High for the table was Edna Nelson, and low was Bonnie Miller.

High for the men was

Manuel Rich and low was

Ed Nelson.

I want to offer all our sympathy to Marian like

and all those people who know Rika Nerway. I understand we also must extend sympathy to one of our people, Lucie Fromast, on the loss of his brother.

We had five tables for white. The high for ladies was Martha Elliott, Low was Kay MacRae. High for the men was Fred Dickert, Low was Robert Elliott.

I wonder how many of us looked out of our windows on Thursday and said what a pretty morning it was. It was the first day a picture on a Christmas card and like one painting that one of our old plastic class members did.

I sat beside Margaret Westland to begin the had her daughter Doreen and her husband Russ West from Alberta for a little visit.

1980 - Edna Grace Harris Home.

Transfused into genealogy, this reads—a couple named Edna had a son Trevor, born before 1950, a daughter Jay born between 1950 and 1960, a son Edward born 1960 and 1965, and a daughter Diana born between 1965 and 1970.

Trevor and Jay left home between 1950 and 1955, and Edna left home between 1955 and 1960. Edward remained at home with Edna and Diana until 1970 and 1975. Edna died and Edward had a son named Edward. Between 1975 and 1980 the widowed Edna moved into the Grace Harris Home.

Translated into notes, that last signature could read, "Edna and I write to her before it is too late."

Edna put the traditional three line notes in her cards, we'd know more. 1950 would read, "Trevor was born April 4th and can stand alone already. Edna's mother passed on June 1st, 1950 might read, "Trevor had his third—a boy in March; Jay is still working for Ace. Edna is engaged to marry Mary Moore's son Ted. Remember Mary! she worked at the cafe for years."

1975 would explain the absence of Edna's name—"Edna had a heart attack. It was incredibly fast, and he's buried at Rosemont with his mother. I'm all right now and managing OK, thanks to God."

1980 would say, "Edna's name but can now write even though I know it's a bit shaky. The Home's size. I share a room with Mary Moore's son, Edna, as we have his first child."

The signatures and the brief notes on cards highlight the high and low of life during the past year. They reveal as nothing else does for now and for tomorrow.

Commanders show life in romp over Edson

Drayton Valley took control of the contest in the second, routing up four unanswered goals. Mark Whist was a bright light, scoring two and generally outpacing the offensive onslaught. In fact, Whist had scored their second goal of the game.

Commander's rebounder Ben Burrows was a stand-out, supplying the club with the kind of pathbreaking needed if they hope to be in a contender's lineup next year. His scrappy play in the first, making numerous scoring runs.

Commanders continued to rob things in the last 20 minutes, leading their surge to 10-1, before Arrows finally got their second goal. Frank Robles, back in the lineup after a lengthy absence, started off the scoring in the third.

Chase went home Sunday on a win, 10-1. Commanders' victory was a surprise, as they had lost to the Arrows in the first round of the playoffs. Representative of their improved defense, Commander's killed off the Arrows.

two-man advantage situation, allowing Edson to come into the third, not close during the penalties.

Edson Points and Dunbar were impressive in their penalty-killing roles.

General manager Ernie Robles said he was encouraged by Commander's play against Edson, and he hoped the club will get stronger as the season progresses. He added the return of some key players, such as James, will definitely help.

Drayton Valley played Whitworth Warriors at home on Dec. 14, and then travelled to Edson for a game against the host team. They're in Whitworth on Thursday on Dec. 15.

Wildwood wins tourney

Wildwood scored three goals to take the 'A' title in a four-team tournament.

The tourney drew some teams made up of skaters aged 14, 15 and 16. In the opening round, Wildwood's Sports Goods of Drayton Valley were victorious 2-0 by Wildwood, and Edson defeated Mohl 2-0.

Wildwood defeated Edson 11-1 in the 'A' final and 5-1 in the consolation game. Mohl and Edson finished 3-1 and 2-1 in the other.

Weary legs prove Flyers' downfall

Playing with only 10 skaters and two goalies, the Drayton Valley Flyers ran out of steam and took a 6-5 loss at the hands of Alx Warriors on Saturday.

Drayton Valley posted an earlier win at home on Dec. 9 against the Edville Eagles. The local senior club won six out of seven games and a tie in the Central Alberta Hockey League (CAHL).

In Alx, the Flyers were suffering from a severe manpower shortage, as many players had previous commitments and couldn't make the trip. While the club put up a good effort, they simply got too tired near the end of the game.

Kevin Henry, Alx's head coach, said he was impressed by Drayton Valley's playing style. He said the team was "at home" against Edville.

Clowns come to town

The International Circus of Drayton Valley will double their popular basketball crowd into the high school tonight (Dec. 18) at the arena on the Frank Macdonald, Warriors.

The exhibitors, which will be in the Pex at 7 p.m. The Clowns, who are very similar to the famous Harlem Globetrotters, combine skilled basketball with their own brand of humor.

WHILE WEARING SKIS, Dave Harrison, president of the local ski patrol, takes a shot from the bull line at Frank Macdonald High School. The action was part of a local shooting match held on Sunday which raised about $2,000 for two winter equipment. Helping out were Barb Harrison and Al Dick.

Town pool hit by vandals

By Chris Shambles
Vandals have been leaving a trail of destruction at the town pool. In the last 24 hours, the pool has been vandalized for a second time.

Facilities at the pool have been vandalized on numerous occasions during past weeks, and recreation director Rene Salabury estimates the total damage at about $2,000.

Four underwater pool lights costing approximately $250 each have been smashed, and windows in the pool building have been broken.

Mr. Salabury said his department wasn't budgeted for these repairs, so he's hoping the town will be covered through a new pool policy.

The pool is a serious problem area for the town, and it's been increased priority by RCMP as a possible solution. It's a breeding ground for vandalism, and something has to be done about it, he said.
